Application Procedures for International Student
Doctoral Course
Graduate School of Dentistry, the University of Osaka

Graduate School of Dentistry
The University of Osaka

The Graduate School of Dentistry at the University of Osaka seeks independent, self-motivated students who strive to acquire specialized expertise, and who seek to obtain the ability to make sound decisions as members of society, imaginative design skills that are applicable to collaborative work, and respect for other cultures as global citizens.

Admission Policy

To nurture individuals with the qualities set forth in its educational objectives, the University of Osaka seeks students with diverse backgrounds who have acquired solid basic academic skills, sufficient expertise in their specialties, a positive learning attitude, and who are eager to discover and explore areas of interest on their own. To fairly select such students, the university's graduate schools and departments individually screen applicants from diverse perspectives.

Desired Applicants

Following the admission policy of the University of Osaka, the Graduate School of Dentistry accepts those with inquisitive minds regarding the advanced sciences in the oral and maxillofacial fields, ranging from fundamental life science research to the development of cutting-edge diagnostic and treatment techniques, who are eager to become the next-generation leaders in dental research and clinical dentistry, and who possess the following qualities.

- (1) Love dentistry and life science, and maintain a serious attitude and sense of mission towards clinical dentistry
- (2) Possess the acumen and perseverance necessary to acquire the latest knowledge and learn cutting-edge techniques
- (3) Are filled with motivation and curiosity, and have an expansive imagination
- (4) Are highly independent with a strong sense of purpose and desire for self-improvement
- (5) Actively seek to communicate on a global level
- (6) Explore career paths to shape their own future

Basic policy regarding the selection

With the aim of accepting the resource described above and securing a diverse array of students, we shall conduct a special selection process in entrance examination for international students, in order to secure global diversity in terms of a learning environment for our students.

Relationship between actual selection method and qualities and abilities

In the special selection process for international students, the evaluation will place particular emphasis on 1 and 2. The candidate's ability in relation to 5 will be assessed by the written examination (foreign language), and the ability in relation to (1), (2), (3), (4), and (6) will be assessed according to the personal statement and interview.

Curriculum Policy

In line with the Curriculum Policies of the University of Osaka, the Graduate School of Dentistry gives research guidance to students under an educational program that is designed to help them acquire specialized skills, comprehensive viewpoints, multifaceted thinking, and an international mindset, and support them in preparing for various future career paths.

< Principles of Curriculum Design >

The curriculum of the Graduate School of Dentistry consists of: basic and special graduate lectures to acquire broad-based deep knowledge; a disease-specific problem-based-learning (PBL)-style dentistry education program to acquire advanced design prowess and problem-solving skills; Academic Major education subjects in core research fields to acquire outstanding academic expertise; and special subjects to acquire advanced broad-based knowledge and deep critical thinking, and an international mindset. The basic graduate lectures and special subjects and some of the special graduate lectures are taught in English to help students develop communication skills and global perspectives. Students are strongly recommended to study: Graduate Transdisciplinary subjects and International exchange subjects offered by other organizations of the University of Osaka, and subjects offered under the Graduate Minor Program and Graduate Program for Advanced Interdisciplinary Studies to acquire advanced broad-based knowledge, deep critical thinking and an international mindset; and international exchange subjects to develop international competency by learning about world-class research and interacting with foreign researchers through participation and presentation at international academic meetings.

< Contents and Methods of Education >

Basic graduate lectures are designed to help students acquire the basic knowledge necessary for specialized study of oral science. These lectures are taught in English, and thus double as Global Literacy education subjects.

Special graduate lectures deal with various research themes, taught by renowned researchers, both Japanese and foreign.

The disease-specific PBL-style dentistry education program is designed to study various interdisciplinary themes relating to oral science.

Academic Major education subjects in respective core research fields consist of lectures, seminars, practical training sessions, and laboratory works.

Special subjects are offered in a seminar style and designed to enhance the ability to make presentations on themes relating to life sciences in English.

< Academic Performance Evaluation Method >

The academic performance of students in lecture-based subjects is evaluated by assessing the level of achievement of learning goals specified in the syllabus based on reports or written examinations.

The academic performance of students in subjects offered under the disease-specific PBL-style dentistry education program is evaluated by assessing the level of achievement of learning goals specified in the syllabus based on reports, written examinations or research presentations.

The academic performance of students in seminar-, practical-training- and laboratory-work-based subjects is evaluated by assessing the level of achievement of learning goals specified in the syllabus based on reports, or research presentations.

The doctoral thesis is prepared under research guidance and evaluated for sufficient academic value.

The curriculum of the Graduate School of Dentistry is designed to guide students to study a wide range of disciplines centering on the core research field and help them develop the ability to address various problems that cannot be solved through the conventional life-science-based approach, from the perspective of oral science, and to acquire design prowess backed by cutting-edge advanced specialized knowledge, advanced broad-based knowledge and deep critical thinking, and an international mindset.

Diploma Policy

Under the Diploma Policies of the University of Osaka, the Graduate School of Dentistry confers a Doctoral Degree in Philosophy in Dental Science on individuals specialized in the life science field relevant to oral science, subject to meeting the following objectives.

Cutting-edge, advanced specialized knowledge and outstanding academic expertise

Acquire cutting-edge, advanced specialized knowledge and skills in dental medicine and dental healthcare, and develop the ability to apply such knowledge and skills for problem-solving.

Develop the ability to conduct original research in broader fields based on knowledge in oral science and deepen such research.

Advanced broad-based knowledge and deep critical thinking

Acquire broad-based deep knowledge and develop the ability to think from a comprehensive viewpoint and conduct a multi-angle evaluation.

Sophisticated international mindset

Develop the ability to bring up global problems in the field of dental medicine and dental healthcare and play a leading role in solving such problems internationally.

Acquire communication skills and global perspectives to play a leading role internationally.

Advanced design prowess

Develop the ability to devise approaches to solutions to problems by combining various disciplines based on cutting-edge, advanced specialized knowledge, advanced broad-based knowledge and deep critical thinking, and an international mindset.

Individual educational objectives

Develop the ability to bring up various problems in life sciences from a distinctive perspective of oral science and work in collaboration with specialists in other fields for problem-solving.

The Graduate School of Dentistry confers a Doctoral Degree in Philosophy in Dental Science on individuals who have: acquired design prowess backed by cutting-edge, advanced specialized knowledge, advanced broad-based knowledge and deep critical thinking, and an international mindset; and developed the ability to address various problems that cannot be solved through the conventional life-science-based approach, from the perspective of oral science.

9. Enrollment Fee and Tuition Fee

Enrollment fee 282,000 yen (as of June 2025)

Tuition fee 267,900 yen/semester (535,800 yen/year)

Notes

1. The tuition fee after enrollment must be paid by direct debit (the fee will be debited from a specified bank account).
2. If the enrollment and tuition fees are revised, the new fees will be applied at the time of revision.
3. The tuition fee may change.
4. Japanese Government Scholarship students are exempt from paying the entrance and tuition fees.

10. Enrollment Fee and Tuition Fee Waivers

An individual encountering difficulty in the payment of the tuition fee for economic reasons, and who also has achieved the minimum academic standard, may receive a full or half waiver of the enrollment and tuition fees based on the graduate school's budget.

Please visit: <http://www.osaka-u.ac.jp/en/guide/student/tuition/remission>

11. The University of Osaka offers tuition waiver system

The University of Osaka offers tuition waiver system (Tuition Waiver System for Honor International Students) for privately-funded international students who are recognized as excellent in the graduate school entrance examinations in order to further strengthen research capabilities and promote the acceptance of international students. This entrance examination is subject to the Tuition Waiver System for Honor International Students. The successful applicants for this program/course are eligible for the Tuition Waiver System.

If you are a successful applicant and wish to apply for this program, please refer to the attached documents.

12. Handling of the Personal Information

(1) Names, addresses, and other personal information will be used only for the entrance examination purposes (e.g. in the publication of the list of successful applicants, and in the admission procedures.

Of the students admitted to the University of Osaka, personal information will also be used for academic-related matters (e.g. in keeping academic and registration records), for student support (e.g. health care management, school fee exemptions, applications for scholarships, or career support), and for school fee management.

(2) The information obtained from the entrance examination may be used for statistical purposes of incoming students or for a future reference on admission process. Of the students entering the University of Osaka, personal information may be used as a reference for selecting students' enrollment in further academic program.

(3) To process the admission, personal data obtained from the entrance examination process may be delegated to a third party with a contract to protect the information of individuals.

13. Disclosure of Entrance Examination Information

An individual score report will be disclosed to the applicant in person (may not be a proxy for the applicant) if the applicant requests the total scores of the written examination and the interview.

14. Precautions

(1) Prior to submitting the application, the applicant must contact a faculty member in the research area of interest and have a thorough discussion of potential research projects and other relevant graduate school matters.

(2) If the application documents contain any falsifications, admission may be revoked even after enrollment.

(3) Incomplete or flawed applications will not be accepted.

Changes are not allowed to the application for admission after submission.

(4) Application fee will not be returned after application submission, except for the following circumstances:

- ① An applicant applied but did not have the appropriate application qualifications.
- ② Application arrived after the deadline and the application was not accepted.
- ③ There was a mistake in the application and the application was not accepted.
- ④ Application fee was paid, but the individual did not submit the application.
- ⑤ Application fee was paid incorrectly and double payments were made.

*If 4 or 5 mentioned above applies, please request a reimbursement.

(5) Reimbursement Requests

Write a reimbursement request (free format) containing reasons for the request and the requester's name (along with the Japanese pronunciation in katakana), current address, phone number and email as soon as possible to the address in the following section together with the Receipt of Application Fee Payment

(6) We do not make any accommodation arrangements (e.g. booking hotels, train tickets) for an applicant arriving on the examination day.

(7) For disabled individuals requesting special consideration for examinations and trips, please make requests to below by August 15th, 2025 (1st) or by November 28th, 2025 (2nd).

(8) In cases of unforeseen circumstances and natural disasters, such as an earthquake or a large-scale spreading of an infectious disease, the graduate school will distribute information regarding the entrance examination on the graduate school website or, if known advance, by mail along with the examination slip. If the circumstance requires, the entrance examination date/format may be changed, thus, please visit our website regularly for any cancellation and rescheduling.

15. Security Export Control

In accordance with Japan's "Foreign Exchange and Foreign Trade Act" (hereinafter referred to as the "Act"), Osaka University has established the "the University of Osaka Security Export Control Regulations" and rigorously implements security export control for the export of goods and the transfer of technology (including accepting foreigners).

Please be aware that applicants who fall under any of the conditions set out in the Act may not receive permission to enroll at the university or may have their education or research restricted after their enrollment.

* The University of Osaka refuses to answer any questions whether the application documents have reached us or not. Please confirm the delivery status by yourself by checking the website of the mail service company, etc.

<Payment completed> Caution regarding application and payment

To complete your application, you must mail in the required application documents described in the student recruitment guidelines along with the proof of payment for the examination fee. The application is not completed simply by registering.

Payments can be made at any time of day. Business hours may vary depending on where you make your payment (convenience store, ATM, etc.). Please mail the required documents within the time specified in the application guidelines. Also be sure to give yourself plenty of time to prepare and send in your application.

●Exemption of Application Fee for the Victims of Natural Disasters

In order to reduce financial burden and provide educational opportunities to prospective students affected by natural disasters, the University of Osaka will take the following special measure, namely exemption of the entrance examination fees payment.

*Note: Non-regular students such as credited auditors are not eligible for this exemption.

Please visit the official website of the University of Osaka for more details.

In this case, the Application Fee Payment System cannot be used. Please contact the office listed in this guideline and follow the instruction.

●Refund of Application Fee

Application fees are not refundable except in the following cases.

(a) In case the applicant did not submit the application documents or the application documents were not accepted.

(b) In case the applicant made a duplicate payment by mistake.
